Written by Marco Attard
29 September 2017

Managed service provider Insight buys further into Europe with Caase.com, a Dutch cloud services provider and Microsoft partner. Financial details of the deal are not available.

"Getting ready and thriving in the digital world is imperative for organisations today," Insight EMEA president Wolfgang Eberman says. "Cloud solutions are the enabler to accelerate innovations. I am convinced that together Insight and Caase.com are perfectly positioned to help organisations cost-effectively buy and manage IT whilst supporting them in their digital transformation through our comprehensive Intelligent Technology Solutions"

The Enschede and Amsterdam-based Caase.com employs 50 people, and is a specialist in Microsoft solutions such as Office 365, Azure and EMS mobile management. It has been named Microsoft Dutch partner of the year for the past 3 years, and post-acquisition it becomes an Insight division.

Caase.com is the second 2017 Insight purchase in Benelux, following the takeover of the Microsoft licensing business of 130 customers from Belgian IT services firm Systemat.

Go Insight Takes Over Dutch Cloud Service Provider Caase.com