

Crestron Europe Gets New UK Offices

Written by Alice Marshall
31 July 2019

Crestron Europe and exclusive EMEA sales agency TIG relocate offices in the UK-- specifically, the Crestron support team and training rooms are moving to Weybridge, while the TIG sales office is found in Cobham, Surrey.

The Crestron office space at 400 Dashwood Lang Road, Weybridge offers increased training facilities for both commercial and residential AV professionals to prepare for control system design and programming challenges. The modular office spaces feature movable dividing walls to facilitate modern working culture, and are equipped with the latest Crestron solutions for room scheduling and unified collaboration.

The Weybridge office also houses the support team comprising service technicians and specialists. The support team is backed up by experts based in the Crestron head offices in Belgium and the US. The rooms feature AirMedia for wireless data transmission, Fliptops, scheduling panels and signs, and a Crestron AirBoard to further simplify training and meeting environments. Managing the office is the Crestron XiO Cloud.

Meanwhile the Crestron exclusive EMEA sales agent, Technological Innovations Group (TIG), is relocating to the Log Barn, an Accrue Workplace flagship building in Cobham. The workspace promotes flexible working for staff, and is accessible from central London via car or train. The location mirrors the TIG corporate strategy, since the new experience centre based in London is due to open later in 2019.

Crestron Europe Gets New UK Offices

Written by Alice Marshall

31 July 2019

Go Crestron