Avaya's Flare Communicator is now available for iPad, with apps for Android tablets and smartphones to follow later this year.

Enabled through the Avaya Aura UC architecture, Flare Communicator offers a number of integrated communications features for both fixed and mobile devices. It allows users to check contact availability, before launching enterprise-class IM, voice call or email via single tap.

The iPad version can also handle x2 voice calls at the same time, as well as multitasking on the tablet (such as reading emails or using the iPad browser) during communications via either wifi or 3G connectivity.

The Flare Communicator app is currently available as a free download for Avaya users.
