

Lenovo Launches Enterprise App store

Written by Marco Attard
29 March 2012

Lenovo is not only selling PCs and tablets-- it now also sells Android apps aimed at enterprise users on the simply named "Lenovo Enterprise App Shop."

Targeting business customers, the Lenovo app store offers custom management, deployment and publication of mobile apps, and even sells apps through volume pricing.

It also has the "Lenovo App Shop Manager"-- a tool allowing IT admins to build custom app stores carrying company-approved apps. Admins can also use the Manager to remotely disable apps, identify unapproved apps, alert users or uninstall apps as required. The App Shop Manager is available as a SaaS cloud hosted solution.

The Lenovo Enterprise app Shop works on tablets from all vendors (not just Lenovo) running Android 3.1 or higher.

Go Lenovo Enterprise App Shop