SMART Says Freestorm Will Be Big

Written by Bob Snyder
18 June 2012

SMART Technologies' newest offering will be more than just a new whiteboard.

Called Freestorm, it's a package: the new SMART Board 8055i interactive flat panel, (which SMART says is the world's first large-format interactive display to offer presence detection), plus the SMART Meeting Pro 3.0 software, as well as new SMART Ink and Bridgit 4.5 conferencing software.

Each Freestorm system is designed to work together with a variety of third-party remote collaboration tools-- and it can be integrated with various industry-specific applications for a comprehensive collaboration solution.

Freestorm also includes training resources, services and support to ensure organizations get the most from their SMART products.

Go Freestorm