

Leyard and Planar Buy eyevis

Written by Frederick Douglas
20 April 2018

Leyard and Planar look to strengthen their position in EMEA with the acquisition of eyevis, the German large screen display manufacturer and visualisation system integrator.

“This acquisition demonstrates our ongoing commitment to further geographic expansion and investment, specifically in W. Europe,” Leyard says. “It’s a great opportunity to bring together Leyard, Planar and eyevis’ strengths and resources in customer service and distribution to build the world’s leading visual solution products for our existing customers and new markets.”

eyvis provides displays for professional applications, such as control rooms, broadcast, virtual reality and simulation. Its product offering includes displays, graphics controllers, software and accessories. Teracue, the maker and supplier of professional IPTV and video-networking systems acquired by eyevis in 2014, is included in the sale.

The companies expect the deal to be finalised by end Q2 2018.

Go Leyard and Planar to Acquire eyevis